Welcome to St. Patrick's & St. Joseph's!

- ❖ If you are new to the parish, welcome! Please stop by the Parish Office, Monday-Friday between 8 am & 4 pm to register, or give us a call at 336-1602 or email stpatrickoneill@gmail.com & we will get the forms to you.
- ❖ Even if you grew up here, moved away, and are now back, you need to register as an adult member. Once you are out of college, you are no longer under your parents' registration. We would be happy to have you as an active parishioner & invite you to register at the parish office. Many don't realize this, but in order to be married, have your child baptized, or even serve as a godparent, you must be registered in a Parish. This is not just our rule, but a rule of the larger church.
- ❖ We ask that you notify us if you are moving from the parish, have a change of address, or change your phone number or email. Thank you for helping us to keep our records current!

From Father Starman

"Discipleship" is a word tossed out quite often in Christian circles. The word "disciple" connotes follower, and being a follower is not something that is praised in our modern culture, which puts a premium on leadership, executives, and "alpha" types. For a Christian there is only one "alpha," who is Jesus. No disciple of Jesus ever takes the place of the master. The disciples are always just that, disciples, followers.

Even though the disciples will never achieve the rank of master, in the Gospel of Mark this weekend Jesus gives the Twelve authority [Mark 6:7-13]. He sends them on mission in six groups of two. The very word mission means to be sent. This will be the model for Christian evangelization. They travel light, without bread, bag, or money. They rely solely upon the kindness and generosity of those they meet. They are to remain in one house until they leave, not "trading up" as it were the longer they stayed. Their preaching is basically that of John the Baptist and the early days of Jesus himself, "Repent."

In their preaching the disciples also exercised their authority over evil, over the demons, over sickness, and over the unclean spirits. The authority that Jesus shared with his disciples for this mission meant that they too, like him, were agents of inclusion. They brought those from the margins into a relationship of wholeness. Like him, their deeds were coupled with preaching. The demand for repentance was paramount; and we can surmise that the demand was not received well by all, as Jesus' instructions for "shaking the dust off your feet" indicate.

Not all disciples were chosen for this mission, but only the Twelve. The mission is to go out preaching and performing works of mercy. This probably doesn't sound much like parish plans today for the "new evangelization." But this is the "mission of the Twelve" and we might find something worthy of emulation here.

How important is it for us to have a friend, a life partner, a spouse? A friend can be there to urge us on when the going is tough, to celebrate our victories and accomplishments with us. A friend is someone in whom we can take joy by celebrating their well-being. And when a friend suffers, we too suffer. A friendship is a gift of God.

Jesus too recognizes how important it is to have a partner. He sends the Twelve out two-by-two. These disciples are not lone wolves; they are not renegade rangers. They travel with one another for mutual support, which will likely form a bond of friendship if it were not there already.

Being called to be in a relationship with Jesus is to be also in a relationship with other disciples. None of us is on this path alone, and thank God for that. The Christian life can never be a "Jesus and me" relationship. It always, and by necessity, involves other Christians, if not other people altogether. Even the Twelve, chosen by name to be with Jesus in a more intimate relationship with him and one another, are not sole actors. They travel together two-by-two.

Who are my partners? Who travels with me two-by-two? This might be a good day to thank God and thank my partner.

Ad Multos Annos!

Church News & Events

✠ Mark your calendar for our 100th anniversary! We will celebrate on June 23, 2019 with the Bishop then a catered meal afterwards in Chambers. We are looking for any and ALL pieces of history, pictures or stories that relate to our parish. We would like to put all this into a book that will be available for purchase at the celebration. There are also many other details to put together so a planning Centennial committee is also needed. If you are interested contact Vicki Tomjack at 336-8535. She will also be the go to person with any of your stories. This is an exciting time for our parish so let's make this a fun and big one.

✠ Please contact Sandra Homolka at 482-5955 with any news items, prayer requests, or other items to be included in the St. Joseph's section of the bulletin.

Please Pray For:
